Emerging Evidence around Domestic Abuse: prevention, economic abuse and justice from the perspective of survivors

We are very excited to announce that the upcoming DVCN Conference will focus on latest research emerging around domestic abuse.

The conference will include a variety of expert speakers from across the country who will present their ground-breaking research on domestic abuse.

The event will look at findings around economic abuse, justice and inequality from the perspective of survivors and engaging men and boys in the prevention of men's violence against women in the UK.

The day will also provide opportunities for questions to the expert panel.

Speakers include Professor Marianne Hester, Chair in gender, Violence and International Policy at Bristol University; Dr Nicola Sharp-Jeffs, Director at Surviving Economic Abuse ; Stephen Burrell, Department of Sociology, Durham University

Who should attend?
